VIOLA BLACK/MOVE OVER

Is a £4 a month prepaid card enough to make Monzo 'move over?' Fintech Viola Black launches its app six months on from its fighting talk

- In January, Viola Black plastered up its message of: 'Move over, Monzo'
- While it went quiet after that, it now has an app you can download and use
- Despite comparing itself to the bank popular with millennials, it is a prepaid card
- · This makes it work differently, with restrictions on how much you can spend
- Unlike most other fintech challengers, it doesn't let you spend money abroad for free and will charge you at ATMs both home and away
